NEXT CONCERT ON FRIDAY, FEB. 27

Sheridan, who have relatives in town, came from Thornton, Ont.

We heard and read about an airliner, a British Avro York transport being lost over the Atlantic one weekend, a couple of weeks ago. It was just another air accident to us.

Then on the Monday evening we were talking to Mr. Robert Hall, Pearson St., Newmarket, who told us that he was afraid his son was on the airliner, a Skyways of London craft. Mr. and Mrs. Hall's son, Flying Officer John Hall of the R.A.F., was a radio operator-navigator on countless trips in the Berlin airlift and lately has been flying troops to the Suez Canal zone and the West Indies. He had made over 30 trips to these areas.

Bob Hall contacted Toronto newspapers for wire reports of the missing persons. Later he learned that his son was not on the aircraft when it was lost, but was to have been a member of the crew. He caught the 'flu the day before the flight and he was replaced by another man at the last moment.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall came to Newmarket from England following the war. Their daughter is Mrs. John C. Hamilton. Their son, John, flew with the Fleet Air Arm during the war and has been flying many world routes since that time. For six months in 1948, a year of bad forest fires, he was in Canada as a ground radio officer with the Department of Lands and Forests, at Marathon. During that time he was often in Newmarket and made several friends among members of the Newmarket

FEBRUARY 17, 1925

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Scott last Monday, when members of the Friends church choir, the Sunday school orchestra and Christian Endeavor met to bid them farewell and God speed as they go to their new home in Oshawa. They will be greatly missed in the choir.

Mr. Jas. Gibson, who has been a fireman for 38 years, is inspecting the town this week. It would be well to pay attention to his requests as where complaints are necessary a return inspection will be made and reported to the council.

Mr. Fred Meek of Victoria College, Toronto, came up to attend the anniversary services in Trinity United church on Sunday.

Mr. J. W. Widdfield, M.P.P., of Uxbridge, was visiting his sister, Mrs. R. Hugo, one day this week.

Mr. Morley Rowland, who is attending Business College in Toronto, was home over the weekend.

Congratulations to Mrs. J. A. Maitland who has received the nomination for recording secretary for the National Council of Women, also for the corresponding secretaryship for the National Council of Women. The executive meets in Ottawa today.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brunton left last week for Barstow in the southern States, to spend the winter with their son.

Mrs. F. H. Robinson spent the weekend with relatives and friends in Barrie, her home town.

FEBRUARY 20, 1903

Mrs. L. E. Cook, who sprained her ankle very badly at Hill's Bakery last week, is doing nicely but it will be another week before she can put her foot to the floor.

Mr. Fred Miller, who is attending Victoria College, Toronto, was home over Sunday to visit his mother and see his brother. The latter leaves this week for the Philippines in the American army.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ball of Lansing were in town last Saturday, visiting her aunt, Miss Morton. Mrs. Ball remained over Sunday.

Mr. J. A. Cody has sold his house on Eagle Street to Mr. Wm. Ostley, his object being to locate nearer the depot.

A number of young ladies were entertained on Saturday afternoon last by Mrs. Robert Manning in honor of her guest, Miss Maud Wallace of Lindsay.

Mrs. J. A. Bastedo entertained the members of the Presbyterian session and their wives on Tuesday evening.

Dr. and Mrs. Scott gave a progressive party last Friday night.

Mr. A. J. Crippen left for Montreal last Friday on a business trip, and was away over Sunday.

Little Miss Florence Binns had a party for her schoolmates last Saturday afternoon.

Miss Norine Wilson gave a dinner on Monday night to numerous guests.

Mrs. Jas. Waite and Mrs. A. Proctor of Aurora, and Mrs. H. Proctor of Calgary, were visiting Mrs. D. L. Lepard last week.

POUND-PARING PUTS PAUL ON THE LIST

GOV.-GEN. MASSEY

Governor-General Vincent Massey leads the parade of Canada's best dressed men, according to the Men's Fashion Council of Canada. His choice of clothing showed, according to the judges, "a vice-regal simplicity and gentlemanly restraint."

HON. PAUL MARTIN

Named among the first 10 also was Hon. Paul Martin, minister of health and welfare. His name was entered for a special reason: improvement. He slimmed down from 260 to 160 pounds and presented a slim figure for tailors to work on.

THURSDAY, THE NINETEENTH DAY OF FEBRUARY, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-THREE

THE ROADBLOCK

The use of a roadblock by provincial police to stop a speeding driver on the Queen Elizabeth highway has prompted strong opinions from citizens. The provincial police commissioner has ordered an investigation into the incident which resulted in the death of two occupants of the car which crashed into the roadblock.

All the facts are not clear. That the driver of the speeding automobile knew police were trying to warn him, it is not known. The police cruiser was giving chase and unable to overtake the car, radioed ahead for a roadblock. Police a head took charge of a tractor trailer transport and parked it across the highway. It was reported that the speeding car crashed into the truck at a rate of 100 miles per hour.

It would seem that a truck parked across a highway at night would be a threat not only to the speeding car, but to other traffic, no matter how well marked it was. Another vehicle could have smashed into the block, possibly a bus carrying dozens of persons. A few months ago there was a tragic accident on the Barrie highway when a bus hit a parked truck.

On the other hand, the speeding auto was a threat to the safety of other travellers and should have been stopped. It could have crashed into other vehicles at crossings and endangered lives in other ways. Police felt it was their duty to stop the car and had to make a decision quickly. It is not likely that the officer thought there would be an accident.

General opinion is against the roadblock. It would seem that the use of flares and other signals would have been adequate to stop a speeding driver who had committed no other crime.

BUSINESSMEN TOGETHER

An encouraging meeting of businessmen was held at the Agricultural board rooms on Tuesday night when a committee was set up to look after the annual Santa Claus parade and decorating the town for festive occasions. The spirit of the meeting gave the impression of harmony and co-operation.

There were 35 present, a number of whom were regular trade fair exhibitors. Others, interested in community welfare, were on hand to discuss affairs of Main St. First the trade fair committee was elected and routine business was settled quickly. The meeting moved on to the election of the Santa Claus parade committee of seven persons.

There were suggestions that the parade committee take in a larger field, including business hours, industrial relations and the hiring of a part time secretary but most of the attending businessmen felt that it would be better for a larger organization to tackle this wider field. The chairman expressed his opinion that Newmarket may well be on the way to the formation of a board of trade. The parade committee set up this week could become a part of the larger organization, he said.

This meeting has been a most encouraging event. There seems to be a growing enthusiasm about community matters. Merchants are anxious to hear how the Main St. project will affect them. They want to know the policy on the intended width of roads and sidewalks. There were suggestions that a community organization could work with the town council and hire a secretary to look after community business concerning the welfare of the town and be of value in relations with new industries. Indications are that the time is ripe for a board of trade.

The businessmen were right in not trying to form a board of trade on Tuesday night. Attempts to force the formation of such an organization could cause its failure. A board of trade will come gradually but it is bound to come. The meeting of 35 people was not a large enough representation but it is hoped that a future meeting will bring out more of the townspeople.

There are opinions that a board of trade or chamber of commerce has no specific project for Newmarket or challenge to interest the merchants. On the other hand some feel it is possible that merchants are too busy to give their time for projects involving work outside their own businesses. It appears now that businessmen realize that they must take part in community affairs. It is important to them as individuals and the town as a whole. There may be no specific instances where action needs to be taken at the present time. Some people say there is nothing sufficiently wrong with Newmarket to warrant a board of trade. But there will be times when we will need a public spirited body to boost the community.

FLOOD CAMPAIGN

The community has made an impressive response to the Flood Relief campaign. Nearly every active organization in Newmarket which has ever raised a penny for a good cause, has made or is planning to make an effort for the fund. The service clubs, the Legion, women's organizations, home and school and church groups are sponsoring fund raising events.

Special dates set aside for Flood Relief events fill the calendar in February and on into March. When activities are over and contributions totalled, Newmarket will have made an impressive contribution to help difference that many people carry towards religions is

CHRISTIAN CANADA

Recent Canadian census figures when analysed show that the adherents of Canada's ten largest religious denominations make up 96 percent of the country's population. The four percent takes care of the members of very small religious groups and those who profess no religion at all.

This shows Canada as a predominantly Christian country and it is a great factor in our social and political life that cannot be ignored, comments the Simcoe Reformer. Regrettably it is quite true that with a large number of these Canadians, their adherence to Christianity is a fragile thread. Nevertheless, it is a link, surviving from childhood association perhaps, and they are better off.

Active church members, the men and women who concern themselves with congregational and denominational affairs, are the hard centre of Christianity, but there is hope and encouragement that when people stand up to be counted, as in our recent census, they do not deny their Christian belief, even though many years have passed since they had any active church or other religious association. Perhaps the assumed indifference that many people carry towards religions is not truly representative of their innermost feelings and for this reason the religious census taken in many localities by Ministerial Associations are most commendable.

It will be an opportunity for those who did not deny Christianity when they were counted, to re-affirm their belief and faith in their Christian calling. It will be an invitation to again associate themselves actively with the church of their choice.

CANADA'S NO. 1 PROBLEM

Shortage of people may well become Canada's No. 1 problem, President Irving P. Rexford told Crown Trust Co. shareholders at the annual meeting last week. An editorial in the Financial Post tells how Mr. Rexford mustered some most convincing arguments for the broadest kind of immigration policy:

Canada, he pointed out, was one of the world's greatest producers of base metals, newsprint, wood pulp, and wheat and it would soon become one of the world's largest suppliers of iron ore. We occupy a territory larger than the United States with less than a tenth of the U.S. population. We have ample equipment in the form of government and other overhead to take care of a population several times our present size. To those shortsighted standpatters who pretend to fear that immigration would take a way jobs from native Canadians Mr. Rexford counters with this: "With a larger population, composed of people willing and anxious to work, we could do more processing in Canada of our natural products, export fewer raw materials and more manufactured goods. Too many of Canada's present raw materials are shipped abroad, fabricated there, imported back into Canada and sold to Canadians at high prices." We could, argues Mr. Rexford, do much more processing and manufacturing right here.

There is no question about that. For proof we need only look back at the amazing development in Canada of the last five years. Substantial immigration in that period, nearly a million people, since the end of the war, has permitted us to process and manufacture in this country products we formerly had to import from other countries.

Oil is one example, iron ore is another, while in manufactured products there are literally thousands of lines now being turned out in quantity for the first time in our history.

More people have meant more jobs, not fewer, more opportunities, more stability. More people also mean more citizens to share the overhead and to participate in the defense of this vast sprawling area we call Canada.

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

A farmer came into the office a few weeks ago wielding a whiffle tree and said that the whole trouble was that people didn't understand farmers.

Slim, who sat smoking an El Pando with his feet on the editorial desk, drew a long drag and said, "True, people just understand people." The whiffle tree was brandished over the slim one's head momentarily and the boss gave Slim the eye to steal quietly away, out the back door. But Slim didn't move a muscle and continued with the El Pando.

"Now I've got a revolution here passed by the Farm For and Against the Association," continued the farmer. "It says that where-so-ever-for our local editor would publicize the farmer as much as the big city dailies sensationalize the news, it would be a good thing. Carried."

The boss said that, well now, he was interested in the lot of the farmer and that he felt that he was doing as much as he could. He said he just didn't know what more he could do. "Yak, yak. What a generalization that one was," Slim guffawed in the background.

In spite of Slim's presence, the boss and the farmer left on the best of terms and both agreed that the farmer was certainly not getting a big haul out of high food prices and that the consumer's dollar was going somewhere but who knew where?

And the farmer left his whiffle tree as a souvenir, he said, but we knew that he meant reminder.

A few days later, Slim sat smoking an El Pando with his feet on the editorial desk, drawing long drags, when a man entered. "I am a consumer," he said. "I consume roast beef, milk, eggs, butter and cheese and so on and I am irate."

"Can't see what you've got to kick about," said Slim, before the boss could open his mouth. "All you do is work eight hours a day and you have exactly nothing to worry about. You get yer raise when the cost of living goes up."

"Look here. You have no idea how expensive it is to keep a home going, feed all the family and everything."

"Yer family probably eats too much. Tell 'em to cut down on their consumption and save a little money. Yer standard of livin' is probably too high," Slim said. "Yer lucky compared to the poor ole farmer."

While the boss was shredding off his fingernails, the consumer continued by saying that the farmer was always "hollerin'" that he wasn't getting his fair share of the prices and wanted protection and that why should he get protection when the consumer wasn't?

The boss said that he had a point and that he too certainly knew how costly it was to run a home but that farmers work from dawn until after dark for their living and that they didn't rake in the big part of the consumer's dollar.

The consumer departed somewhat more satisfied, in spite of Slim. The boss came back into the editorial room with fire in his eyes and little droplets on his forehead. There was a brief chase through the building and Slim fled out the back door, guffawing.

The Top Six Inches by "Dairy Farmer"

We had a fire inspection on the farm the other day, an admirable service on the part of the insurance company which proposes to do this service every three years or so. As we showed the engineer around from house to house and barn to barn, we felt that here is a service which should be available to every farmer, because the cost of such service would be well repaid by added safety and reduced fire losses.

Some of the barns were wired just a few years ago and yet we were amazed to see the amount of damage that stable air will do to wiring and especially in places where the cold air near a door causes excessive condensation.

As we went along it was quickly pointed out to us what heating cords will do and how barn lights and heat lamps will heat up cords and how dangerous a hot plate can be. We were given quite a lecture on the effectiveness of different types of fire extinguishers on how dangerous dust settling on motors can be and how important the right size fuse could be in preventing fires.

Here is a task that should be sponsored by some local group as a matter of service to the farming community, since it is obvious that the local tradesmen and merchants would be the first to benefit from any replacement that the farmer has to make and because a general fire safety would be a benefit to the whole community.

A great deal is said at one time or another about the relations between country and town and every once in a while some organization comes forward looking for ways and means to improve relations. We cannot think of any better way of establishing good relations between the town and the surrounding area than by sponsoring some sort of fire inspection service.

Most farms have installed hydro within the last 10 or 15 years. Those wired just before the war have withstood now 10 years or more pretty rugged service. In most cases the load carried has been increased as electricity gained a wider use.

We strongly suspect that a few dollars spent on doing a small repair job would be money well spent and might well prevent a disaster. We also suspect that in some cases, it may lead to a reduction of insurance rates, saving additional expenses.

Such an inspection service by qualified men could be a very inexpensive proposition if undertaken as a community effort. The local fire chief or a retired engineer, could make the call, if so requested by a farmer and we would be surprised if there weren't a lot of requests for such a service. After the inspection is made, a brief report could be made by filling out a mimeographed questionnaire.

From then on it would be the individual farmer's job to make the necessary changes if he wished to do so or disregard the suggestions, at his own discretion. After all, this is a free country and if the man wants to live unsafely, that is his look-out. Such a service could be sponsored easily by a group of insurance men, hardware merchants and electricians.

We are sure that it would be profitable to both the sponsors and the people to whom the service is available. If the reports were kept confidential between the inspector and the man who requested the service, nobody could be accused of trying to get ahead of his competitor.

Among Canadians stationed at RCAF base at North Luffham volunteering their services in stricken flood areas of England are LAC P. Quinn left, of Ottawa, and LAC L. Sawyer of Vancouver. Seen filling sandbags for future insurance against new attacks, both men helped fight Winnipeg floods. In the background, members of the 84th Canadian Engineers, down to the base at Hamelin, near Hanover, Germany, are seen up debris-covered land.

Folks are so curious! Imagine people asking "Who is The Pulpiteer?" Quite a number have said to the writer of this column, "Do you know who the Pulpiteer is?" and I have had to say something like this, "Well, perhaps I do and is he ever a hard fellow to get to know," and have passed it off as a joke.

I can't understand why folks must be always wanting to know other people's secrets. If we wanted the world to know the identity of The Pulpiteer we would have put the writer's proper name at the end of the column. I won't tell his name but I will tell you something about him. Listen carefully.

The Pulpiteer was born some forty-plus years ago in Toronto. He grew up as any normal boy except that half of his first 17 years were spent in suffering from a very severe ailment. Many times he neared the valley of the shadow and friends waited anxiously for the news of his passing.

Many said that it would be better if he were taken as he was so sick so often. But he lived. The Pulpiteer's background was religious. Very religious. Religious externals. One day he heard a group of young folk singing a lovely hymn on a street corner which goes like this:

"I tried the broken cisterns,
Lord, but ah, the waters failed,
Even as I stooped to drink they fled and mocked me as I wailed.

That was the verse of the hymn and this is the chorus:

Now none but Christ can satisfy,
none other Name for me,
There's love and life and lasting joy,
Lord Jesus found in Thee.

The Pulpiteer stopped and listened. Someone stepped out of the circle and spoke to him about the love of God, as found in Jesus. That night in the year 1924 the writer of this column passed from death unto life and ever since has been declaring the Gospel of saving Grace. Who is The Pulpiteer?

"Once I was foolish and sin ruled my heart,
Causing my footsteps from God
to depart;
Sin had alarmed me, fearing
God's face,
But now I'm a sinner saved by Grace.

"Suffer a sinner whose heart
overflows,
Loving his Saviour to tell what he knows,
Once more to tell it would I embrace;
I'm only a sinner saved by Grace.

Sorry! That is all I can tell you as to the identity of The Pul-piteer. Just go on reading the column and may God bless it to you, every one, is my prayer.

SNOWDROPS
Spring was here last week. Mr. Walter Collins, 33 Timothy St., reported that he had snowdrops in bloom at the west side of his house. They are the first blooms we have heard about this year.

Sugar beet growers in Canada now are producing enough raw material to supply roughly one-quarter of Canada's sugar needs.

Our readers write

Letters to the editor are always welcome but the names of the writers must be known to the editor.

The Editor: I read with interest, the editorials and articles appearing on the editorial page of our local paper and the reading of that page this week prompts this letter.

In your editorial "Essential to Economy" you make reference to the article by "Dairy Farmer" and indicate that you agree with him. There are comments in his article with which I do not agree and one in particular that I do not understand. He says he hopes provincial legislators will take a long look at the situation and consider it in the light of what their decision will mean to generations of farmers to come.

What about workers and consumers who are not farmers? Does he ask dictatorial legislation, to prevent groups who are not farmers, from having no choice but to pay a high price for a non-superior spread for their bread? Does he want legislation passed compelling us to buy imported butter rather than a product made in Canada? This would be the case because at present the Canadian farmer does not produce enough butter for Canadian consumption. Furthermore, he says, "Are we to be sacrificed for 10 cents a pound?" If he is referring to butter versus margarine I would like to know where we can buy butter for 45 cents a pound! Not that I would buy it if it were for I, like many more I know, would not buy butter instead of margarine at the same price.

I also read the Family Herald and Weekly Star, which lately has carried a number of letters on this same subject and I would like to take several paragraphs from two of these letters, from dairy farmers, to show that it is not only town folk who think as I do. One writer says in reference to the dairy people, "I refer to the constant complaints about their unfair competition from vegetable oils, margarine, butter substitutes, etc. They have become chronic kickers and very unreasonable."

He goes on to say, "The Canadian consumer should have the same right to buy margarine as the farmer to buy oranges or cotton overalls. If such organizations really believed in the fairness they should be consistent and ban cotton to protect the sheep industry, oranges to protect the apple growers and vegetable shortening to protect hog raisers."

Another writer says, "It should be quite obvious that margarine is no threat to the dairying industry as long as the Canadian government has to import millions of pounds of butter every year to supply the demands of Canada. The real danger in Canada is the lack of enterprise of the farmers themselves. Farmers in Australia, New Zealand, Denmark and other countries are putting the Canadian farmer to shame by selling butter in Canada that should be produced in Canada!

These and many more like statements are from dairy farmers themselves!

Yours truly,
Ivan C. Day.

JACK SMITH WRITES

Ottawa Letter
A weekly letter from the member of parliament for York North.

Increased revenues from Canada's buoyant and booming economy made possible the splendid and encouraging statement of our national finances in the annual budget presented to an attentive house and an expectant country Thursday night.

Tax reductions and adjustments were welcomed but major satisfaction of Canadians should be in the very fine state of our general financial position. It is a matter of real satisfaction to all Canadians that our economic conditions continue in such a healthy state in this rather unsettled world.

The reduction in our national debt is the kind of good sound financing which makes for success, stability and progress in any private business. Just as it is good business to pay off something of the mortgage in our private affairs during days of prosperity, so it is good business to do the same thing in our national business. As a result of steady debt reductions over the past few years taxpayers of Canada are saving many millions of dollars in interest charges.

Expenditures still are high and taxation is heavy, but we must keep in mind that one half of our national revenue goes for defence preparation, an insurance premium which we hope will maintain peace and avoid the horrors and destruction of another world war.

A real effort has been made to keep non-defence spending at a minimum with the result that many desirable projects have had to be laid over to a future date when we hope our defence requirements will be lessened.

Saskatchewan River Dam

The proposal to construct a dam on the South Saskatchewan River to provide irrigation for a large area of farm land in Saskatchewan was first made before Confederation and has been a project under consideration at various times ever since.

In 1951 your federal government appointed a commission to inquire whether the economic and social benefits would be commensurate with the cost and whether the project represents the most profitable and desirable use which can be made of the physical resources involved.

The purpose of the South Saskatchewan River project is to irrigate an estimated 455,000 acres of land in central Saskatchewan by constructing a dam 205 feet in height across the river. Associated with the plans for irrigation, it is proposed to develop 150,000 horse power.

The estimated cost of the project is in the neighborhood of $250 million and after exhaustive and expert study the commission issued a lengthy report which is a 423 page printed volume.

The lengthy commission report did not give a green light to the project, rather it questioned several phases of the undertaking and the prime minister an-

Hanna Historical Society Pres.; Interest In Stanley Barracks

W. E. Hanna was re-elected president of the York Pioneer and Historical Society at its annual meeting recently. Vice-presidents are A. D. McFall, who is also chairman of the committee of management; Miss Alice Wetherell, E. L. Danher, Miss A. P. Lewis and A. Thomas. Other officers are: honorary secretary, Rev. T. W. F. G. Andrews, 20 Watford Ave., Toronto; honorary treasurer and membership secretary, H. A. Knowles; honorary historian, R. S. Duncan.

The committee of management is composed of the foregoing officers and J. C. Boylen, Col. O. S. Hollinrake, T. P. Grubbe, Major John Barnett, A. G. Clarry, P. J. Hughes and Miss M. E. Basingthwaite. Honorary counsel is A. Kingsley Graham, Q.C., and auditor, J. G. Crang.

That Stanley Barracks, "The New Fort," be placed in charge of the Toronto Civic Historical Committee was a recommendation already in charge of "The Old Fort," as Fort York was known. The Society requests that the central block of Stanley Barracks be open to the public during the 1953 Exhibition. It is pointed out that "The New Fort," the last of British garrison buildings to be constructed here, is historic in a special manner in that it was completed in 1842 by the British War Office for $1,700 pounds less than the estimated cost of 22,853 pounds.

A bronze tablet on which this was recorded disappeared from the building after it became a war time housing scheme. Inquiry by the Society of the civic or military authorities has resulted in eliciting, so far, no information as to what happened to this record. Another tablet which was at the entrance to the barracks area has been saved and is in the custody of the Royal Canadian Dragoons at Petawawa.

The unique situation of "The New Fort," or Stanley Barracks as it became under Canadian possession, is pointed out by the Society. The structure is not only in the area of the early Toronto of the white man and the battleground over which the Americans advanced in 1813 to capture York, but stands available for use on one of the great exhibition grounds of the world whose annual attendance reaches almost the million mark.

Temperance Group Passes Resolutions
The Ontario government will be asked by the North York Temperance Unit to give a percentage of its profits from the sale of liquor "to advertise to the public of the deleterious and harmful effects of alcohol." The resolution was based on the belief that advertising by the liquor interests of their product, seems to be beyond control of the Ontario government. The motion was passed at the convention held in King City last week.

The government will also be requested that all school boards consider systematic use of temperance material procurable from the department of education. The resolution pointed out that the school period in a child's life embraces its formulation of decisions and habits.

A resolution commending the Ontario department of highways and police for establishing traffic safety campaigns on New Year's, was passed by the convention. The resolution recommended that these campaigns be maintained all year around. "Drinking drivers are a menace on highways," stated the resolution. The government is perhaps an accessory to the slaughter on New Year's or any other day. Drivers may be seen coming from beverage rooms and getting into automobiles licensed by the government and driving away on streets or highways to become potential killers," it was stated.

A resolution was approved to ask the Ontario government to instruct the chief electoral officer of the province to give strict attention in the matter of qualified voting on local option contests.

Another resolution sanctioned by delegates was to ask the federal department of national defence to declare "all wet can- tences and places where alcohol may be consumed out-of-bounds to youthful soldiers."

Other resolutions included commendation of campaigns and crusades to encourage voluntary abstinence, in the belief that total abstinence would cure the alcohol problem. The resolution recommended that "all good citizens and churchmen accept and practice abstinence". Alcoholics Anonymous was commended for work of reclamations and pledges in support of the temperance cause.

work committees in every part of the riding. The O.T.F. has a specific program and will help." He said representatives in various organizations can lead in the study of the uses of alcohol.

"Responsible citizens are not doing the job as it should be done," said Rev. M. J. Aiken, of Newmarket's Trinity United church, past president and chairman of the temperance legislation committee of the O.T.F. A strong advocate of government legislation on alcoholic consumption, Mr. Aiken told how his committee has tried for months to "reach the premier of Ontario" on this matter but can't get in touch with responsible persons. "If there are so many people who are protesting against liquor outlets, why can't the temperance federation bring pressure to bear upon the government?" he questioned. Mr. Aiken upheld nationalization of liquor manufacture.

Mrs. Elma Starr, Newmarket, reported on the year's activity on children and youth work. Her emphasis was for more temperance workers, encouragement of young mothers to attend the provincial convention and representative groups in women's organizations to study local alcohol problems. She would like a fund set up to educate young people in school for the study of alcohol and she advocated specific study of abstinence in schools. "If we were not an indifferent public, we would have made more progress," Mrs. Starr declared.

Temperance Workers See Need To Educate Youth On Alcohol

The venture in the alcohol business is a losing business," declared Dr. J. P. Wilson, Richmond Hill, president of North York Temperance Federation at the annual convention, held in King United church, afternoon and evening, on Feb. 13. He was re-elected to office for the 17th term. Rev. M. R. Jenkinson, minister of the local church, welcomed the delegates and conducted the opening worship.

"True, we make a few millionaires in this business," the president continued. "The government collects a fee from the sale of strong beverage, but the answer in the fight against alcoholism is not more outlets. That adds fuel to fire," he stated. "The need is greater enlightenment by an educational program, to study the pros and cons of the liquor business." The doctor believes that total abstinence is the strongest opposition to the ravages of drinking on the physical health and moral stamina.

Speakers stressed organization of temperance community committees and the vital work among young people. A strong stand was taken for government legislation to curb the liquor menace. L. J. MacLellan, director of organization for the Ontario Temperance Federation, said young people are the challenge and responsibility of the North York Federation.

"Too many kids are on the alcoholic road today," he declared. "The big job for North York municipalities is to select leaders in each community to set up

SHARON

The monthly business and devotional meeting of St. James W. A. met at the home of Mrs. Bruels on Tuesday, Feb. 11.

Mrs. Fred Hall, the president, opened the meeting with prayer. Mrs. Osler read the scripture lesson and the rector, Mr. Arthur, took the chapter of the study book "Thine is the Glory". A donation was voted to the Flood Relief Fund.

The film "The Royal Tour" will be shown in the hall on Friday, Feb. 20, at 8.15.

The members are meeting with the United church ladies at Queensville on Friday afternoon for the Women's World Day of Prayer.

NEWMARKET VETERANS

On February 9, Newmarket Veterans' Association held a special executive meeting to discuss ways and means of raising funds for the relief of flood victims of Europe. It was decided we would hold a bingo on Feb. 25, net proceeds will be given for this worthy cause.

It was also decided to contact all members, requesting them to contribute cash in order to pay for the prizes. In this way we can confine the cost to our organization. If other interested persons wish to contribute, it will be appreciated. However, we will not solicit. Our executive was very generous; $21 was collected and $14 more was promised.

We take this opportunity to thank Ken Ponting for his contribution by way of the entertainment on the piano at the Valentine party, also Mr. H. A. Jackson for providing the equipment and films which were the type children do enjoy. It was a wonderful afternoon for the children. They ate and filled themselves with soft drinks and by the way, Master Bruce Hillaby supplied good entertainment on his accordion.

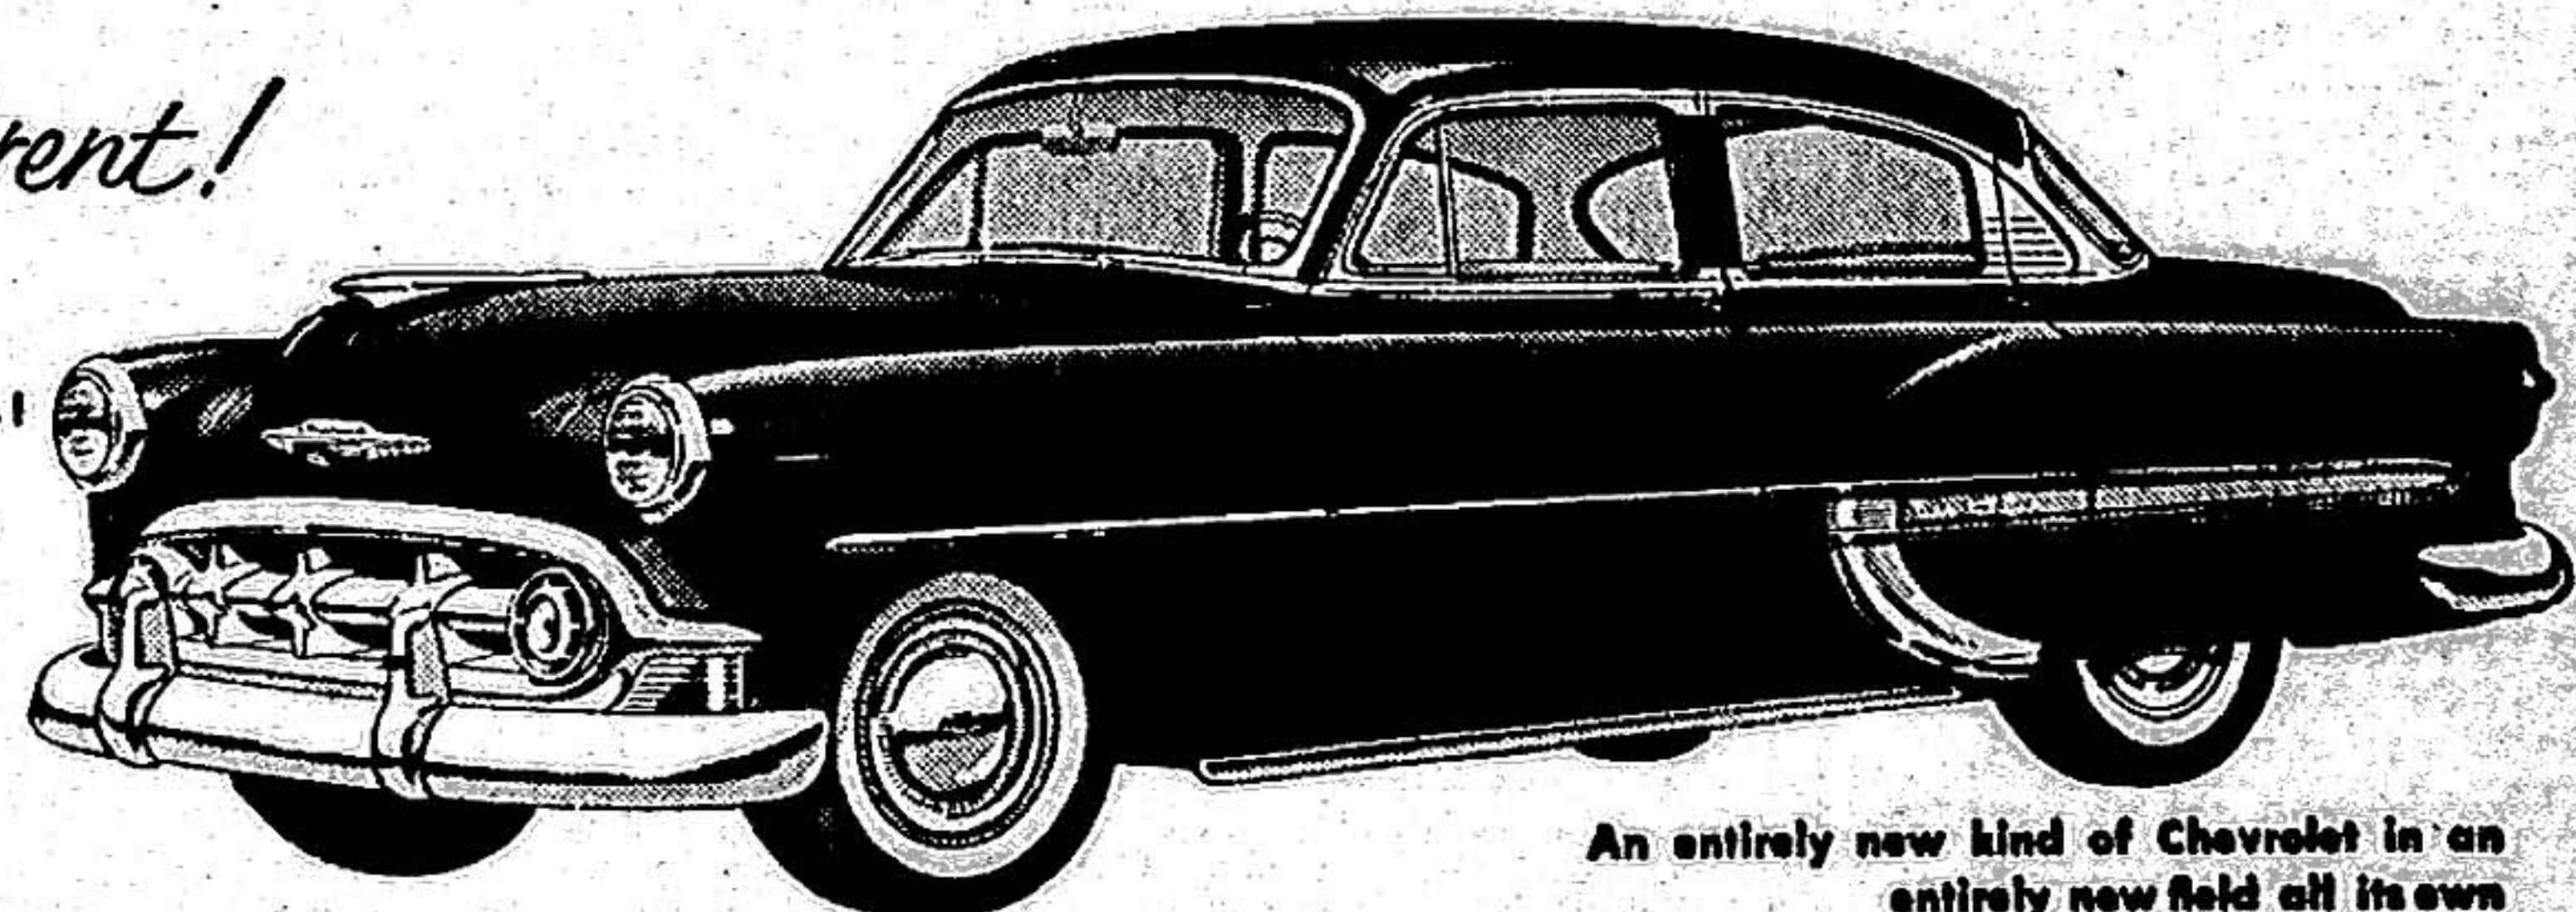

The children enjoyed the games. Congratulations and many thanks to the chairman, W. Blight, and to all who helped to make the party a success.

Remember the bingo, Wednesday, Feb. 25, for the flood victims' fund.

DEE — In loving memory of a dear mother, Harriet Dee, who passed away February 21, 1950. And while she lies in peaceful sleep Her memory we shall always keep. Sadly missed by son Bert, Enla and family.

GILROY — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Elizabeth Ann Gilroy, who passed away February 13, 1944. Memory lives the time dims our sorrow. We look ahead for God's tomorrow. GOULD — In loving memory of my dear father, George Gould, who passed away February 21, 1947. Remembrance is a golden chain. Death tries to break, but all in vain. To have, to love and then to part. Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart. The years may wipe out many things, But this they will never, The memory of those happy days When we were all together. Sadly missed and always remembered by daughter Elda.

RAHMER — In loving memory of my dear father, Herman Rahmer, who departed this life February 10, 1938. Gone but not forgotten. Sadly missed by his daughter and son-in-law, Lena and Harold.

RYE — In loving memory of a dear husband, Thomas Rye, who passed away February 17, 1949. I have lost my soul's companion, A life linked with my own. Sadly missed by wife Annie RYE — In loving memory of our dear mother, who passed away Feb. 17, 1949. God gave us a wonderful father. His memory will never grow old. He fashioned his smile out of sunshine. He moulded his heart of pure gold. He needed a new star in Heaven. A beautiful light to shine; So out of this old world of sorrow. He chose that dear father of mine. Ever remembered by daughter and son.

SMITH — In loving memory of a dear niece, Patricia Ann Smith, who passed away so suddenly February 22, 1950. She was only a little white rosebud. A sweet little flower from birth; God took her home to Heaven. Before she was soiled on earth. Lovingly remembered by Aunt Tootsy and uncle Allan.

SMITH — In loving memory of our dear niece and cousin, Patsy Ann Smith, of Windsor, who was accidentally killed 3 years ago today, February 22, 1950, age 10 years. Bears Win Over Brampton 3-2

Highlight of the Aurora Bears' hockey week, they had one league game and two exhibition contests, was their 3-2 win over Brampton Regents of the O.H.A. Big Six Junior B league Saturday night in Brampton.

Aurora won this one on Joe Burke's steady shot stopping. Andy Closs, fine defensive work and Joe Gasko's beautiful solo dash at 16:44 of the third period that cracked a 2-all stalemate. In the early scrimmaging, Al Williams and Artie Barber scored to keep Aurora on even terms with their junior B adversaries. Dave Voyce and Bob Demarse engineered the Brampton counters.

Friday in Aurora the Bears, without several regulars, were taught a 14-5 passing and checking lesson by Winged Wheelers of the T.H.L. intermediate series. Bears again had road trouble in their one league game when they dropped an 8-2 decision to Owen Sound Greys. The win enabled the Sounders to step up into second place tie with the Bears. Trailing 3-1 after two periods, Bears saw their chances of getting back in the game go out the window as the Sounders spurred for four goals in the final period. Bob Veale scored from Nobby Ash and Bill Maguire polished off an Artie Barber, Al Williams relay for the Bears' goals.

In expressing her thanks Miss Dawson paid tribute to the Publisher, Mr. J. E. Smith, whose generous support makes the publication of the York-Simcoe "Bulletin" possible.

Donald Graham, Director of Education for Forest Hill Village was introduced by Mrs. A. Toogood and gave a practical demonstration of "Audience Participation". Pupils of grade eight from Forest Hill junior high school took part and the audience broke up into 12 groups to analyse their play with a given question in mind. Expressions of appreciation to all those taking part in the evening's program were extended by Mr. G. A. Crutcher.

Mrs. LeMasurier invited the President of York Central Home and School Council, Mrs. Gallows, to light the taper on the huge birthday cake, a ceremony commemorating the memory of the founder of Home and School Associations in Ontario, Mrs. A. C. Courtice.

TO HOLD SERVICE ON DAY OF PRAYER AT GRACE CHURCH

The first Friday in Lent, Feb. 20, is being observed as the World Day of Prayer. In Newmarket, the special service will be held at Grace church, 52 Botsford St., at 3 p.m. All women of the district are invited to attend the service in which the local churches will participate.

The first of these services was held on the first Friday in Lent, 1920. In 1922 the Canadian group joined the church women of the United States and the first international day of prayer was held.

Last year, over 100 countries celebrated this year-around bond among Christian women of the world.

"The Lord gave the word; the women that published the tidings were a great host." (Psalm 68). These words, written over 2,000 years ago, have been brought to life today by the women's Inter-Church Council of Canada. This council, formed over 30 years ago, had as its goal, a world-wide federation of church women of Protestant communions, bound together by an interdenominational day of prayer.

The theme of the 1953 program of the World Day of Prayer is "walk as children of light" (Ephesians 5). In Newmarket, the guest speaker will be Mrs. D. E. Locke, Salvation Army and the soloist will be Miss Margaret Rose, Grace church.

SHOWER

Miss Barbara Ryder who will become the bride of Ralph Goldsmith, Jr., on Saturday, Feb. 21, has been the guest of honor at several showers this month. A miscellaneous shower was held in her honor at the home of Mrs. Roy Langford, Yonge St. The staff of the Bell Telephone gathered at the home of Mrs. Joseph Quinn on Feb. 11 for another miscellaneous shower.

Miss Ryder received many lovely gifts. On both occasions, a social evening was enjoyed with refreshments being served by the hostesses.

MISSION CIRCLE

The Women's Mission circle, Christian Baptist church, Newmarket, will hold its regular meeting on Thursday, Feb. 26, 2:30 p.m. in the Sunday school room. A good program is being arranged. A cordial invitation is extended to all women of the church.

Queensville Girl Wins Senior Oratorical Prize

In the oratorical competitions for students, 6 to 20 years of age, when nine competed, Rev. W. E. Smalley of King presented the decision of the judges. Winner of the Dr. S. J. Boyd trophy, senior contest, was Barbara Comer, 16, Queensville, who spoke on "Alcohol and Gasoline Don't Mix". Jean Johnston of Central United church won the J. M. Walton intermediate silver cup and spoke on "It's Smart Not to Drink". Lois Perkins, 10 on Feb. 13, recited "One Glass Too Much", to win the junior Dr. Wilson silver cup.

As these trophies are county prizes, the winners were given replicas and the trophies are to be retained for a year by the Sunday school of each representative whose name is engraved on the trophy name plate. Mrs. Starr gave each contestant a little red testament. Miss Alice Ferguson donated copies of her "Nonsense Rhymes" to the two young contestants.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

The strength of a nation lies in its youth. Lord Baden-Powell, realizing this, drew up a program of training for boys which has never been excelled. This program, called Scouting, was immediately accepted by the boys and gave such fun and satisfaction that the girls, not wishing to be left out of this wonderful game, demanded a similar organization for themselves. Thus guiding was born in 1909 and spread rapidly to all parts of the world.

Details of the program and uniform vary in each country to meet the needs of different climates or races of people, but everywhere the same law and promise is kept. To link together the Guides of all nations, a World Association was formed to which each country sends representatives.

One symbol of the World Association is the World Flag which is used by Guides in all countries. The Gold Trefoil on the blue background represents the golden sun, shining in a blue sky, which, when it sets on one land rises on another, and so is shining always on Guides in some part of the world. The two stars stand for the promise and the law which Guides in all lands have promised to obey. The vein of the leaf is the compass needle which points out the direction in which to travel, and the scroll beneath, which is an exact copy of the Heraldic Fez, is the flame of the love of mankind which dwells in the heart of every Guide.

Guiding was designed for girls between the ages of 11 and 16 years, but as their younger sisters were clamoring to join, a junior branch was formed for the girls from 8 to 11 years, called the Brownies. The girls of 16 did not wish to drop their association, therefore, a senior

GUIDE MOTHERS SEE COLOR TRAVELOGUE

W. A. Tice provided the program at the February meeting of the Scout-Guide Mothers' auxiliary, Newmarket. "Across Canada", a travelogue in color was shown by Mr. Tice who later gave a brief talk on places highlighted by the film.

Mr. Tice, who has been in boy's work for about 25 years, was one of the first group of probation officers appointed in Toronto. He was instrumental in the setting up of the juvenile court's probation system. Mr. Tice was thanked by Mrs. Balfie Bradley for his excellent program.

Presiding over the meeting was Mrs. Victor McCutcheon. There were thirty members present. Plans were completed for the Mother and Daughter banquets for which the auxiliary will cater tonight and tomorrow. Guides, Brownies and their mothers will attend the annual banquets. Mrs. Bert Budd is convener for the Mothers' auxiliary. The auxiliary provides the dessert course for the banquet with the Girl Guide Local association financing the remainder of the expenses.

Arrangements were made to have the Scout Hall thoroughly cleaned prior to the banquets. They will begin at 7 p.m. Co-ordinator for the association is Mrs. Orley Hayes.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. N. R. Callaghan and her committee.

SPEAKS AT LADIES AID
Miss Norine Ayers was the guest speaker when the Junior Ladies' Aid, Christian Baptist church, Newmarket, met at the home of Mrs. Gordon Cook on Tuesday, Feb. 10. Miss Ayers gave an interesting account of her trip to Alaska in 1952.

Mrs. William Robinson presided. The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Arthur Kirbyson, assisted by Mrs. Ted Adams and Miss Shirley Calk.

Mrs. Kirbyson read a humorous poem, "The Patchwork Quilt." Each member is to bring an apron to the next meeting. The aprons are being made in preparation for the Aid's annual Blossom tea and bazaar in May. At the close of the business, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Ivan Winkworth, Mrs. Gordon Stiles, Mrs. Lewis Coombs and Mrs. Wally Adams.

Mailbag Portraits Of Life In Sarasota And Jamaica: Club Room For The Retired

Comes a letter from Elgin Evans who, with Mrs. Evans, is away down there on the South Trail, Sarasota, Florida. It is a typical Elgin Evans letter, full of speed and pep and patter. With the letter there's a postcard snapshot of Elgin sitting on a seat with a group of happy-looking negroes. It is hard to say which look the happier, Elgin or the negroes.

Here are some interesting excerpts from the letter: "The weather here has been very comfortable, some rain, but lots of warm sunshine; you really get a sun tan." To which we answer (touch wood!) that the weather around Aurora and Newmarket has been so good during the present winter season that there are lots of people to be seen with a sun tan, or a color closely resembling it.

Let Elgin speak again: "They tell us the tourist trade is down. There are so many new motels and other accommodations, I guess they do not notice them so much. We have met quite a number from Aurora and Newmarket districts." The next paragraph reads: "It is interesting to watch the new houses being built. No basements and all outside plumbing; no fronts to bother with; all one-story homes; no stairs at all. Wages are $2 an hour for any laborer; material is about the same price as in Canada."

The following paragraph is cheerful: "We generally drive out in the country to get fresh fruit and vegetables. The negroes work in large groups, men and women together, and they are really happy in their work. We have called at a home or two and they are clean and respectable, all living together as families; great grand-parents and all, sometimes four generations of them."

Do As You Please

Of amusements, Mr. Evans tells us there are plenty, especially fishing. "The different kinds you pull in are amazing. The causeways are lined with fishermen; you do not have to get a licence. You can net, spear, use a light all night, catch them how you like, no one to bother you. They have large outdoor amusement centres; everything from cars to golfing. You join a club or pay a small fee and can play any game at any time."

And, finally, a touch of domestic peace: "We have the same cottage as before. All conveniences; a little home from home; and everyone so friendly and trying to make you comfortable. It is a great privilege to be able to come down and enjoy the warm sunshine." Thank you, Elgin, for your letter. And (again touch wood!) we are enjoying some fine strips of sunshine in Aurora just now, in the so-called winter season.

Portrait of Jamaica

Almost by the same mail that brought us news from Mr. and Mrs. Evans, we heard from another friend who is vacationing in Jamaica and who sent us a most interesting article that appeared in the London "Listener" and reprinted in the "Daily Gleaner" of Friday, January 16, 1953. The article provides a vivid portrait of life in Jamaica, from which we make some quotations.

Saying that most people think of Jamaica as the place where bananas and rum come from, the writer proceeds: "Millions go there in the winter to palatial homes in the hills or to very expensive hotels on the verge of the Spanish Main. It is the home of flamboyant politicians. Some 1,250,000 live in that island. The overwhelming majority of them are colored."

Housing Conditions

Their housing conditions, the writer tells us, are often appalling. "They live in shacks or corrugated iron, sometimes even in flimsy shelters of old sacks and petrol cans. Incidentally, it was those sheets of metal that caused such havoc in last year's hurricane. A piece of corrugated iron whizzing through the air with a hurricane behind it can easily cut through a tree, let alone decapitate a human being."

Despite these tribulations, the writer assures us that the Jamaicans are a happy not a miserable people. "They do not go about in rags, their manners are invariably charming and you do not find among them vitamin-deficiency disease such as rickets or scurvy or, although so many of them live virtually in open air day and night, rheumatic complaints."

New Industries

The favorable portents are the installation of new industries. Chief among these is the discovery of the raw material of aluminum. "Surveys revealed that under the feet of Jamaican peasants who were trying to scratch a living from unfertile fields lay something like 320,000,000 tons of ore waiting to be dug up and made into gleaming ingots of aluminum."

Still, the writer thinks, the most important assets in Jamaica are its herds of beef cattle, citrus groves and wooded hillsides, and those industrious smallholders, instructed by Canadian experts, tending their land with a new skill."

Retired Citizens' Club

As announced in our issue of last week, the Recreation Commission is anxious to provide facilities for club purposes for retired citizens who would like to meet with others similarly-minded, for games of cards and checkers and the like. The east room in the old town hall has been made available for club purposes, under the sponsorship of the commission.

Until this arrangement was made possible, there was no room available for the pleasant occupation of retired citizens, with time on their hands, to meet together for recreational interests. Besides being able to play games, magazines and other reading material will be provided.

The idea is to provide the room and let those who would like to use it form their own programs and run the show. The chairman of the committee in charge of this new project is Mr. S. C. King, 23 Mark Street, who will be glad to talk matters over with all enquirers and give all possible assistance.

A WORTHWHILE PROJECT

Since we last mentioned the subject of providing floodlights for the town park, the committee sponsoring the proposal has certainly left no moss growing under its feet. Already the committee has raised the substantial sum of $300 through the sale of 25 cent tickets for draws made at the Friday night hockey matches in the arena.

The proposal to floodlight the town park for baseball contests and for other major events, has everything to recommend it. In itself floodlighting is an attraction. It is a certain means of drawing a crowd. Once it were installed in the town park, numerous organizations in Aurora could use it to profitable advantage.

For special events that could be held in the town park, floodlighting would prove an almost certain means of success. To name only a few organizations, it could be used for special events by the Horse Show, the Legion, the Lions and Rotary clubs, the Board of Trade and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Although the major purpose of floodlighting the town park was considered as a facility for baseball enthusiasts, it will be obvious that its possible uses are very numerous.

Floodlighting the town park immediately caught the imagination of the public when the idea was first inaugurated by a sportsmen's committee working under the chairmanship of Councillor D. J. Murray, and there is no doubt that the proposal is growing in popularity.

There is to be a canvass for public subscriptions commencing on March 1. If the proposal to floodlight the town park were to become a practical accomplishment by May 18, on which date the railway centennial is to be celebrated, a great stimulus would be added to the historic occasion.

"THAT WHICH WAS LOST"

Last week we told the story of how the Aurora Rotary club raised the large sum of $800 for welfare purposes and handed it over to the Aurora Recreation Commission, the money to be spent on playground equipment for children. In the three lengthy paragraphs in which we reported this wonderful gift, we mentioned the $800 no less than four times. In spite of this fact a headline over the report stated that the gift was "$300".

The mistake was not ours. The error was made in the newspaper's composing room, when the large type used for the headline was made up. Nonetheless we accepted responsibility for the error and expressed regret to the president and secretary of the club. After all, there is a considerable difference between $800 and $300.

Having expressed regret, we would recall the fact that, as Burns said in one of his apologetic poems, "To err is human". So true is this that St. Francis of Assisi, and many other saints, gave all they had to the poor as a means of seeking perfection, and they still were not perfect. They slipped, struggled, and tried again.

The Era and Express has long been acknowledged as one of the best-printed, most accurate and reliable weekly newspapers in Canada. But even so it is not perfect. Human beings, not archangels, manage it. We can only conclude that the $800 benefaction was so large that it momentarily dazed the compositor, who couldn't believe his own eyes! That which was lost is found again!

COURTESY AWARDS

Recently we were writing on the subject of courtesy and good manners. The opinion was expressed that generally speaking Aurora was a town of good manners and we instanced the consideration shown at the post office, in the stores and on the streets, as proof of our contention. We were writing on the adage that "Manners maketh the Man".

The other day Mr. Frank Inyett, the new and genial manager of the Royal theatre in Aurora, called at our office to explain to us a system of staff "Courtesy Awards" which the Odeon Theatres Ltd. of Canada has in operation throughout its circuit. It is quite clear from what we have seen that the management of the Odeon theatres places great emphasis on staff courtesy towards theatre patrons and the public generally.

So much so that the management has instituted a system of awards in the form of silver and gold stars, together with certificates of merit, for conferment on those members of its staff who display exceptional courtesy and efficiency in their public relations. Human nature being what it is, a welcoming smile and a pleasant manner by a theatre usher can contribute substantially to an evening's enjoyment after patrons have disappeared from the doorway and are seated within the theatre.

Odeon theatres are fully conscious of these claims of courtesy and are to be commended on taking steps to give practical encouragement to their staffs in carrying them out. The silver and gold stars awarded to employees, together with the accompanying certificates, will, as the management states, "be a form of recommendation for advancement within the theatre and the company."

From the courtesies we have seen at the door of the Royal theatre, we have little doubt that some Aurora Odeon employee will be among the award-winners.

COUNCIL REPORT

Debate On Planning Board Town Solicitor Appointed Overseas Fund Voted $200

A regular meeting of the town council was held on Monday night, Feb. 16. Mayor Rose presided and all members were present. Highlights of the meeting were a decision to make a town donation of $200 to the Overseas Flood Relief Fund and the resignation of E. H. Clarke from the planning board.

Correspondence was read from the arena board, which signified its future intention of ending its financial yearly statement on December 31, instead of July 31 as hitherto; a letter was read from the board of trade thanking council for receiving a deputation at its last meeting; and a letter from the North York Humane society giving a statement of its activities was read.

In his letter of resignation from the planning board, Mr. E. H. Clarke stressed the loss of Mr. W. S. Mills from the board and that council did not appear to be co-operating with the board.

Points Of View

Discussion arose on a motion by councillor Jones, seconded by councillor D. J. Murray, that Mr. Clarke's resignation be accepted. Reeve Cook thought that the resignation should be held over, which prompted councillor Davidson to ask whether Mr. Clarke's letter implied that without Mr. Mills the Planning board was no good.

Mayor Rose said he resented the suggestion contained in the letter that council had deprived the planning board of Mr. Mills' services. The mayor said it was Mr. Mills' own action in resigning that had deprived the board of his services.

On a show of hands on the motion that Mr. Clarke's resignation be accepted, Reeve Cook and councillors Davis and deputy-reeve Murray voted against the motion. Those voting in favor of the resignation being accepted were: councillors Davidson, Jones, Murray and Moffat. The mayor declared the motion carried.

Reports

Among reports submitted, councillor Moffat reviewed the work of the by-laws committee, of which she is chairman, indicating that considerable time in studying detail had been given to a number of by-laws to be introduced at an early date.

Mayor Rose complimented Mrs. Moffat on the preliminary report, saying that in his experience of council it was the first time that such a report had been presented.

Councillor King, chairman of the finance committee, submitted a report recommending that street lighting be improved by the installation of mercury-vapor lights, as suggested by the hydro superintendent, Mr. Copland, on his recent attendance at council. The recommendation was approved, other contingent questions, such as the cost of the installation of the equipment and whether the town or the hydro commission shall bear it, to be resolved in further meetings.

TV Interference

Arising out of the recommendation to install mercury-vapor street lighting, deputy-reeve Murray said it had been claimed that it had a bad effect on TV sets, and wondered if that were so. Councillor Moffat said that in her experience, no bad effects from mercury-vapor lighting on TV had resulted. The question was referred to further enquiry.

On an engineer's report concerning the proposed Wellington street widening, councillors Jones and Murray raised the question of the cutting down of trees. Mr. Jones said he was anxious over the possible unnecessary destruction of trees that beautified the town. He hoped this would not happen. The report was handed over to the Streets committee for their consideration and report to council.

Unfinished Business

Council having reached the stage of unfinished business, the question of filling the vacancies on the planning board was considered. For one of these vacancies Mr. Lorne Evans' name had been recommended but Mr. Evans declined on the grounds that he was already serving on another planning board. Mr. E. R. Youngs also declined nomination, stating that he had served on a planning board.

Councillor Jones moved the appointment of Mr. D. Richardson for a three-year term and this was seconded by councillor D. J. Murray, who said that Mr. Richardson would be a real asset on the board.

Mr. Richardson (who was present at the meeting on behalf of the Junior chamber of commerce) said he would regard it as an honor and a challenge to serve on the planning board. He believed in planning but added that there were various kinds of planning.

Lorne Lee Appointed

Following the appointment of Mr. J. Ardill for a one-year term on the planning board (to complete the unfinished term caused by the resignation of Mr. Mills), councillor King moved and councillor Davis seconded the appointment of the town solicitor, Mr. Lorne Lee, to the planning board for a three-year term.

Reeve Cook questioned the wisdom of appointing the town solicitor to the board, since he was their legal adviser on all town matters. When councillor King said he thought it was good to have a lawyer on the board, Reeve Cook said he thought the idea was a good one.

Councillor D. J. Murray strongly opposed the appointment of Mr. Lee on the grounds that as he was their legal adviser, he was adviser on the work of all their boards. The town solicitor's position should be an impartial one, giving legal advice on all town questions, he said.

Deputy-reeve Murray said although he didn't want to see Mr. Lee on the planning board, it might be a good thing to put him there to see if time could be saved when planning board questions came before council. The motion for Mr. Lee's appointment was carried.

Insurance Protection?

On the question of a recent accident to a citizen who fell and fractured a limb on an icy sidewalk and who was unable to claim town compensation the mayor said he felt very critical of the town's non-liability insurance as far as citizens were affected. Mayor Rose said that while the town was protected, citizens were not.

Councillor D. J. Murray said they were paying heavy insurance premiums and it seemed they were always paying out but that nothing seemed to come back.

Councillor Moffat enquired into the responsibility of householders cleaning off their sidewalks and was assured that there was a by-law in force which placed responsibility on householders for seeing that this was done.

Overseas Flood Relief

Mayor Rose suggested that council should make a contribution on behalf of the town for the Overseas Flood Relief funds, saying that many thousands of people had lost everything in the destruction arising from the floods. "We in Canada," said the mayor, "have little or no idea of the terrible suffering that is being endured at this present time."

Following some discussion, a motion by councillor Davidson, seconded by councillor Davis, was approved, that a grant of $200 from the town treasury be made to the relief fund.

OLD COMMUNION SET GOES TO KNOX COLLEGE

An ancient communion set may be seen in the library of Knox College, Toronto, the gift of Eversley Presbyterian church. It consists of a beautifully chased silver tankard and two large stem goblets, believed to be about fifty years old. They were donated to the church by Mrs. James Carmichael, wife of Rev. Dr. James Carmichael, minister of the King charge for 50 years until 1910. They were used by Eversley congregation until 1926, when a modern set was donated by the late Captain Ransom and his wife, in memory of their late son.

The urn stands nearly 18 inches high and the goblets are at least eight inches tall. They have remained forgotten in the Tawse home, at Eversley, the former manse, and were stored in a box in the attic. When Mrs. Elizabeth Tawse Follitt read in the Presbyterian Record publication that a communion set was needed at Whitehorse, in the Yukon, she remembered that the containers were in the house.

She also remembers their being used at the Lord's Sacrament service, and knows that her aunt, Georgina Tawse, Dr. Carmichael's wife made the gift and donated them to the church. She forwarded them to Toronto West Presbytery to be sent to Whitehorse.

Church authorities were so impressed with the sacred containers that it was decided to give them a place of honor at the library of Eversley congregation, founded in 1834. The symbols will be set under glass and put on exhibit.

REDUCED TWO MILLS

The trustee board of King school has set the tax rate at 12 mills for 1953, which is a decrease of two mills from last year's rate. The reduction has been made possible from the legislative grant of $1254 on the debenture payments, incurred with the building of the third classroom.

The assessment of the school section is $240,000, an increase of about $20,000 over the 1952 figure. The construction of many new homes contributes to higher assessment and with the prospect of 10 homes to be built in the Kingsview subdivision, the development of Heritage Park subdivision and other homes on King sideroad east, trustees look for even greater assessment figures in the future.

C.G.I.T. Afternoon Tea

Parents and friends of Eversley C.G.I.T. were invited to an afternoon tea held at the school, last Saturday afternoon. Receiving were Miss Carol Norrad, the leader, assisted by the girls. Mrs. Howard Neill was in charge of the tables. A newcomer to the district, Mrs. Glenn Sawyer, whose daughter is a recent addition to the organization, was present to meet the ladies of the community.

The young girls who make up the C.G.I.T. are Katie Poag, June Walker, Margaret Moses, Judy Strain, Gillian Brown, Glenna Sawyer, Marjory Cockerill and Miss Norrad. On Sunday evening the C.G.I.T. formed the choir at the evening service at Eversley church, and sang two hymns, accompanied by the organist, Mrs. Len Shropshire.

When Eversley Presbyterian W.A. met at the home of Mrs. L. E. Rolling, this month, Miss Kay Clark, the co-hostess, told of the work of the Canadian Society and what is being done to familiarize people with the importance of early diagnosis of symptoms. She spoke of the voluntary help given in making cancer dressings and other ways of aiding those in a local community who require help.

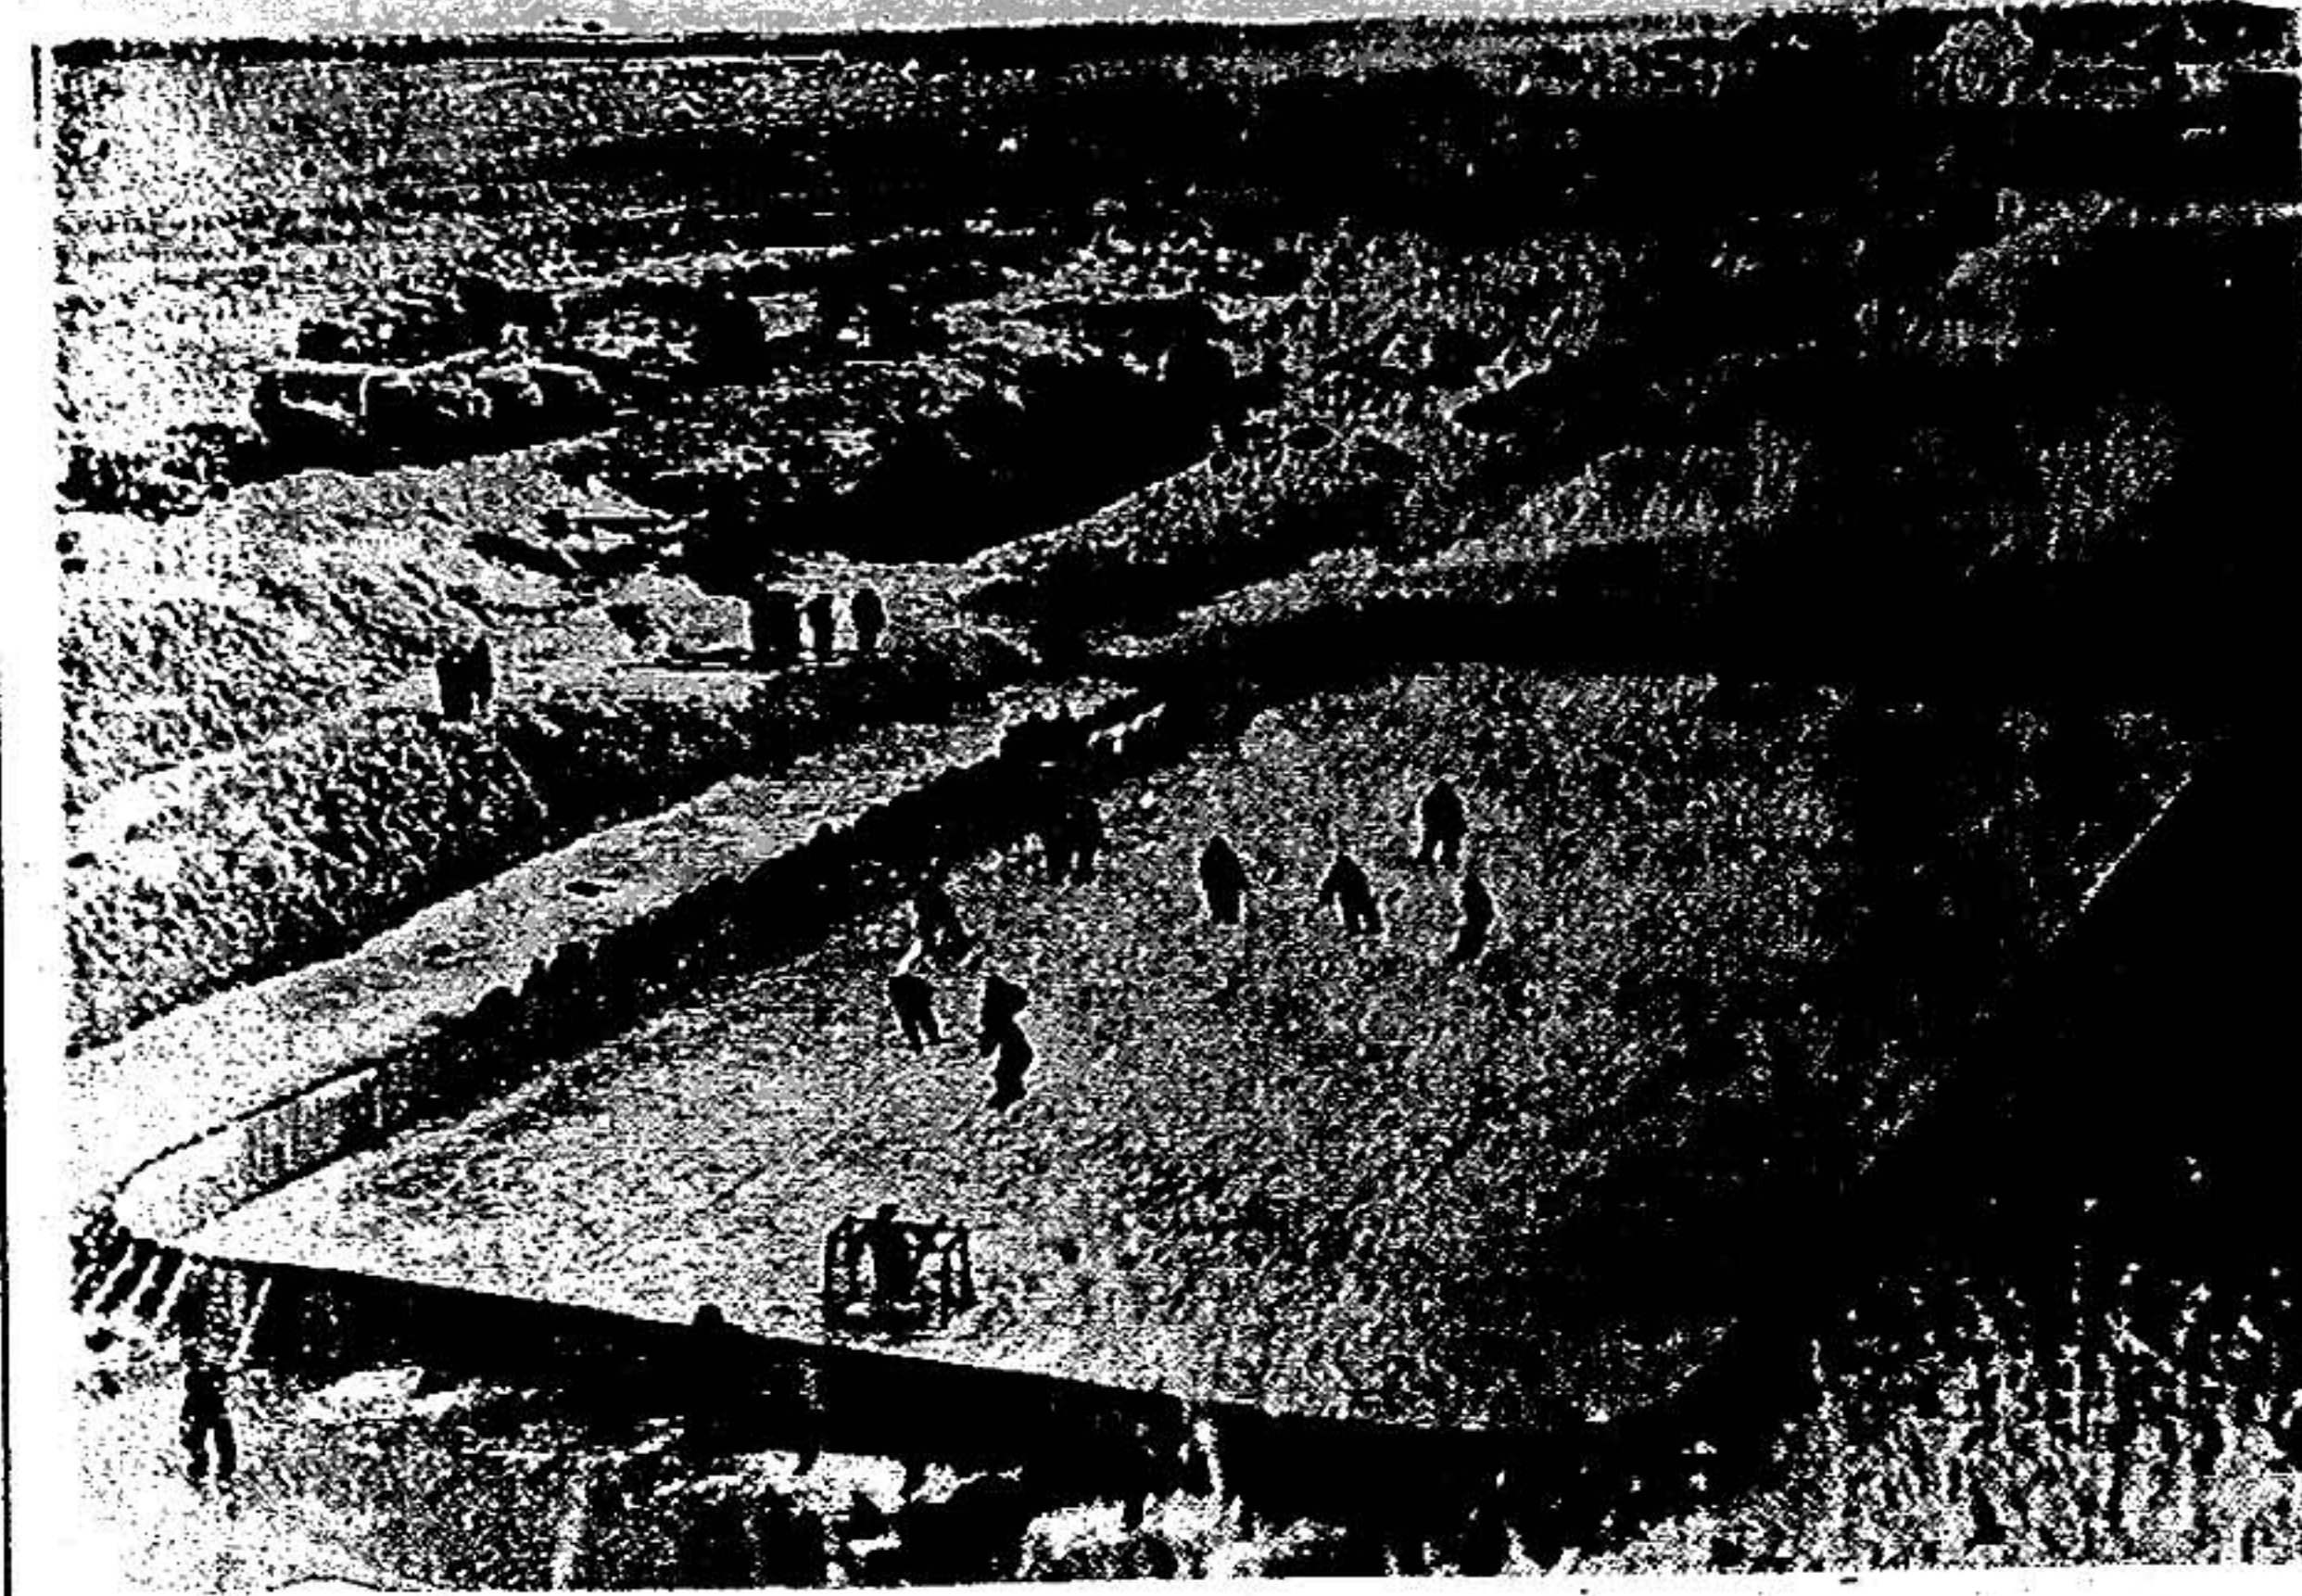

Mrs. Ross Bovair gave a fine scriptural exposition and Mrs. T. L. Williams read a chapter from a book entitled "For Goodness Sake," by Nancy Jones, wife of a Presbyterian minister.

St. Andrew's congregation, Strange, heard encouraging reports at the annual meeting held at the home of Chas. Black, chaired by Rev. D. C. Wotherpoon. Received into the communion of the church in 1952 were six new members. Donald Farren was added to the session board and inducted into eldership on Oct. 12.

The minister reported he is visiting public schools to give religious instruction through the week. He is also continuing studies in the University of Toronto. Young people attending high school meet every second Wednesday for Bible study and fellowship. The Sunday school, superintended by Donald Farren has a membership of 28, with a good average attendance.

Mrs. W. Finch is Bible class teacher, Mr. Wotherpoon, intermediate boys and girls, and Mrs. Don McCallum, the beginners. A. Black and Donald McCallum; junior ushers, Bobby Arbuckle and James Finch.

See Many Crafts and Hobbies

Forty-five Kingcrafters, including Norma Wells and Suzanne Grew of Teencrafters, visited the Homecraft and Hobby show, at Toronto coliseum last week, attending in a body. They were greatly interested in the variety of skills, gaining new ideas and making comparisons with the crafts made in the organization.

LEGION NEWS

Well, the Legion coronation committee met with the town council committee last Friday and plans have been started for the big day. All told it is expected to be a rather heavy schedule.

The Soap Box Derby will probably be worked in somehow and it is hoped that the winner will be sent to compete at St. Catharines. Winners at St. Catharines, we understand, are usually sent to the big do at Akron, Ohio. A monster parade, ball tournament, heur services, fireworks, dance in the arena to a name band and the Legion Spring Draw for the TV set are all possibilities on the program.

Legion sports are in the offing with Zone E2 Bowling at Wilowdale on Saturday, February 28. Zone Cribbage will be in March and Zone Darts near the first of April.

We are happy to hear that Orv Wilson is doing very well in Toronto Western hospital. Please let welfare chairman Albert Skelton know of any ailing members or veterans in need.

Bingo chairman, Sid Brice expects to be able to hold a Flood Relief Bingo on March 4 so please keep this date in mind.

This year Ontario Provincial Command is holding a public speaking contest instead of the former essay contest. There will be more details later.

RAVENSHOE

The W.M.S. will meet at the home of Mrs. E. Breens on Tuesday, Feb. 24, at 8 p.m. Roll Call to be answered with a scripture verse starting with the letter "P". Mrs. S. Armstrong will be in charge of the study book. Please make note of the change in date.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Breen, spent Sunday visiting Mrs. Breen's cousin in Stouffville.

Sorry to report Mr. Jack Perry is still in hospital.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

This is the last of two articles on the life and hockey works of one of the great figures of the game, Captain James T. Sutherland, founder of the Hockey Hall of Fame.

Whether the ancient city of Kingston was the scene of the first organized hockey ever played in Canada, this writer is not prepared to say. But there is little doubt but that one of the first organized hockey leagues of all time was that which, in 1883, engaged four teams, in the ancient Limestone City, including Queen's University and Royal Military College, a league that played its games on an outdoor rink surrounded by a low fence, with the spectators seated atop the great banks of snow piled around the playing surface. It was after this that Queen's University erected one of the earlier indoor rinks in Canada.

The City of Kingston then organized a team called the Frontenacs in honor of Count Frontenac, whose name the city originally bore. Jim Sutherland was selected to act as manager of the team and the records show that the Frontenacs won some of hockey's brightest pages down the years. Their greatest glory came when the juniors won the O.H.A. championship in 1911 and established scoring records that have never been even remotely approached.

Yes, indeed those Frontenacs were a mighty force 41 years ago. With Jim Sutherland at the helm, they filled enemy nets with rubber and racked up as many as 32 goals in one game. Their combination attacks have never been surpassed, if equalled, and the greatest of them all was gallant Allan "Scotty" Davidson, who later deserted professional hockey to enlist in the Canadian armed forces of World War I, and gave up his life in Flanders Field.

Jim Sutherland also marched away to war in 1918, the year that he became president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association. He was then in his 48th year, but the will to serve was inherited from his Scottish ancestors and nothing could have deterred him from following that path of duty. And he did serve so well that he was recommended for the Order of the British Empire.

Hockey did not seem to be the same in Kingston with Jim Sutherland 'stick-handling' against the Germans on the Western Front, but it staged a remarkable recovery after he returned. Kingston then celebrated in a championship setting when the Frontenacs captured the O.H.A. Intermediate title in 1919, with none other than the mighty Bill Cook, who became a star in the Western League and later with New York Rangers, the outstanding star of the series.

Mr. Sutherland, having planted the seed, now eagerly awaits that day when the International Hockey Hall of Fame will rise in all majesty in Kingston. When this has been accomplished it should be written high upon the walls that unto this man who saw and believed, must go the accolade for tenacity in following a star on which no sun will ever go down.

Your comments and suggestions for this column will be welcomed by Elmer Ferguson, c/o Calvert House, 431 Yonge St., Toronto.

SENIORS WIN

Newmarket Grads, that's our basketball hopefuls, seeking hoop opposition, clashed with Newmarket high school seniors in an exhibition contest at N. H. S. gym Thursday. A terrific last half drive, which netted them 30 points, enabled the seniors to humble their older brethren 55-25.

Alastair Sinclair contributed 15 points while his running mates, Bob Dick, looked in 10 and Paul Widdifield and Taylor Gilbert eight each to pace the N.H.S. attack. Bob Saunders led the Grads' scoring with 10 points while Dunc Beatty knocked 7 and Ken Wright and Keith Walton four each.

SPORT NEWS

Down The Centre

BY AB HULSE

Cobourg Comets, who will represent eastern Ontario in the Junior "C" playoffs, will be in Aurora on Friday night to meet the Bears in the return match of an exhibition series played this week. The Comets, who have been playing with "B" teams all season, are said to be mighty good and the fans should see one of the best games of the season.

The Comets and Bears are both seeking information for the future but the Comets are assured of course of meeting the local group winner in the next round, whereas the Bears are grimly hanging on to a five point lead over Midland, as they face one more game themselves against Midland's four more. Midland tied Collingwood in Midland on Saturday.

Saturday night is the big one for the Bears as they invade Midland in their final group test. Bus transportation will be arranged if sufficient fans desire to follow the team so if you wish the club to make such arrangements check in with your name at Aurora arena, or telephone Andy Closs or Doug Clarke by 5 p.m. on Friday.

There has been some criticism of the schedule the Bears have been playing, with five games in eight days listed and four of them exhibitions. Aurora dropped the decision to Winged Wheelers on Friday night at Aurora and then bounded back to defeat Brampton Regents, junior "B" group winners, 3-2 in Brampton on Saturday night in a sterling display of hockey, with Joey Burke, Bob Hanna, with Joey Burke, Bob Hanna, turning in top performances, but the aforementioned trio being especially good.

The Bears were short Bill McGuire, Murray Chapman, Bob Veale, Pepper Martin and George Dempsey, with Don Egan, Don Morning and Ted Rogers substituting. Rogers looked the best of the trio, but it is still a big jump from juvenile to junior. Egan, in his first game, showed enough to warrant his retention and of course he's had junior experience and only needs conditioning.

It costs money to run a club and the Bears are no exception so that to carry on they need a home game each week and experience in the past has bitterly taught how wrong it is to leave your home night empty or to switch to another night unless it is in the semi-final class.

Mid-Month Memo: Elmvalle Legion won the district curling honors on Saturday, Feb. 7, a Collingwood as 16 Legion rinks completed for the right to go on to provincial honors at Sudbury. Elmvalle not only finished first but took second as well with Orillia taking third and fourth and Collingwood fifth. Arrangements were perfect, and there was nary a squawk.

Murray Chapman, promising young hockeyist, will likely be lost to the Bears from now on as he's joined the Canadian Navy and will doubtless be posted to some place other than Toronto. The fans will wish him well.

George Stockwell, ex-trainer of Newmarket Redmen, has been elected as president of the Ontario Massuers association. Loring Doolittle was among eight embryo O.H.A. officials tried out by the O.H.A. at the Brampton vs Aurora game on Saturday. Referee-in-chief Pat Patterson and one or two more were on hand to look at the arbiters and Doolittle made an excellent showing according to all reports and from what we saw.

The move by the O.H.A. to strengthen its officials and check on them is all to the good. Doolittle will leave in April to resume his post as an official in the Blue Ridge Mountain baseball circuit although he had several offers with more money from other pro loops. "Dewey" liked his surroundings last year, romance also calls and besides, after another year in the circuit he's practically certain of a promotion not too far from Canada.

Grant Edwards may be an absentee from the Aurora line-up for some time. Club Proxy Dr. C. R. Boulding discovered that Edwards had been playing with water on the knee and ordered him to the sidelines for a few days. "Stub", one of the team's leading scorers, has been playing erratic hockey in recent weeks and the rest may do him good. The big trouble, aside from loss of talent, is that it cuts to the bone the six players who live within the municipality.

Since the spare goalie counts as one of the six, Allan Child, minor league netminder, will be added to the roster and if he has to fill in, the youthful Child can hold his own. He's a nephew of Art Child, now member of the Ontario House and for many years one of the O.H.A.'s top senior goalies.

School Hockey League

A scoreless duel betwixt Bruins and Rangers, Leafs 2-0 win over Redwings and Canadiens-Black Hawks 1-1 draw highlighted the Saturday school squirt league struggles. In peewee fun Biltmores tripped Flyers 7-3 while the Spitfires scored a 5-3 win over Marlboros.

Leafs took over first place in the squirt league as Larry Keffler and Malcolm Olsen furnished a goal each to hex the Wings. Vern Abbott netted for Black Hawks while Larry Tunney pegged Canadiens' counter in their 1-1 standoff. John McKnight blew in with a sizzling hot three-goal effort to spark the Biltmores.

Bob Keffler swung in for two kill shots while Paul Forhan and Gordie Burgess added to the Bilt's count with a goal each. Jim Bond brushed up on his scoring homework with two goals while Howie Brice climbed on Flyers' scoring band wagon with a single sniping try. Terry Budd put the sock in the Spits' drive with two goals while Tom Wadsworth, Gary Hogan and Jim McArthur nabbed a goal apiece. Don Bone was a two-goal lad while Brent Macnab shot in the Marlies' other counter.

STRIKES AND SPARES

Ivan Day 716 (236, 248, 232) and Lou Bovair 703 (281, 221, 203) were high scorers in the Office Specialty Office-men's League. Lou Bovair's team went into first place with a 3-1 win over Vandenberg's six. Bennett's team tripped Phimister's 3-1.

Davis Leather keggers were on target last week. Len Burling was pace setter with 760 (261, 214, 285). 600 bracket marksmen were Bill Cullen 632, Art Flanagan 618, Jing Groves 605, Andy Cullen 601. Scoring: Jordan 5, Brown 2; Tunney 5, Coates 2. Standing, Tunney 86, Jordan 76, Coates 66, Brown 50.

A pair of shut outs in Hoffman loop last week: Machine 7, Vorelone 0; Sheet Metal 7, Press Shop 0. Standing Vorelone 67, Sheet 58, Machine 50, Press 49. Harold Andrews counted a pifty 761 (265, 245, 251) to pace the pin assault. Grant Blight collected a 702 (259, 168, 275). 600 or better scorers were Geo. Hill 686, Al Bryson 627, Ken Thoms 617.

Strong spurge of high scoring in the Wednesday afternoon ladies' league last week. Pace ment will be played in Collingwood on Saturday, March 21, or 23, depending on O.H.A. playoffs. It will be a bantam contest and the teams will be grouped in two series by population. Last year, in a one bracket series, Barrie defeated Aurora in the finals. Each team will supply a linesman while Ed Bush, Rosy Bush, Reg Westbrook, Nip Spooner and other Legionnaires will handle the refereeing for free. Every Legion branch in the local zone is expected to ice a team. Bud Cato will be in charge of the Aurora club, along with Ray White and Harry Sutton.

A word of commendation for Lefty Phillips who is handling the training duties this year for Aurora Bears. "Lefty", who is better known as a softball, has complete harmony in the dressing room, acts both quickly and deftly with the needed equipment and is in and out of the arena before you can say "Jack Robinson". The kids like him too and the management is well pleased with the results.

Stouffville Clippers and Oshawa Transports for the West group and Belleville and Kingston for the east are in the senior "B" play-offs. Merv Gilles, Brampton, is plenty worried about Unionville and 'tis said in Brampton coach Butch Keeling will not be back next winter. What do they want a coach to do?

King Defeats Kleinburg Schomberg Loses

King City Maroons, performing like the old rocking chair, upset Kleinburg 6-3 while Schomberg absorbed a 9-1 pasting from Bolton in the King-Vaughan Friday tilt.

As a result of Friday's games, Bolton increased its first place lead, Kleinburg stayed put in second while King City vacated the league basement in favor of Schomberg.

Four players shared the King scoring. Ron Hodgson brushed up on his scoring homework for three while Jim Patton, Len Murray and Dave Murray showed zip on the attack to register singletons for the Maroons. Walt Bell, Bill Rose and Stan Foster sniped for the Kleinburg markers.

Harvey Wallace hat tricked while Keith Skuce and Keith Pearcey pegged two each to pace Bolton. Bunny McKay and Ted Derbyshire completed the King tally work with a goal each. Doug Brown kept Schomberg from going under completely with his second session counter.

HASHMAN AWARD

Scoreman And Worker

Missed our weekly Hashman award and Roxy Theatre pass roll call last week. This week we'll do a double take by naming two. Judging from the thumping our Gorman Smoke Rings gave Collingwood, winning the round 18 - 2, Collingwood will be just another team on the Hub's list six or seven years hence. The scoring star of the Smoke Rings 11 - 0 win here Friday was promising young hockey man Danny Patrick. Dan made it a big six point night with four goals and two assists and for his aid in putting the evil eye on Collingwood he rates our number one Hashman award.

Earlier in the season it looked doubtful whether the Hub would get into the North York Juvenile Hockey League race. Then along came Eddie Pitt to offer his services as manager; Ken Broughton took on the coaching; Wayne Manning accepted the Club presidency and finally the Office Specially purchased sweaters for the team. As they say "all's well that ends well" now the juveniles are aimed at playoff action. They should give a good account of themselves in the playdowns. Eddie Pitt who is a willing worker in many Hub sport's activities for his start-off gesture earns our number two Hashman award and Roxy Theatre pass.

Say these are busy times, what with O.M.H.A., North York minor, town league semis and Keswick rural playdowns cluttering up the hockey horizon. Then too, in case you've forgotten the mecca on Monday is the arena and the event is the Flood Fund Benefit game between Avros and Mahers.

Of course you'll see Hack Cain, Bill Thoms, Hughie Mair, Ortie Thoms and other bright stars of the Varsity Commercial circuit. Let's give this worthy project our very last ounce of financial support.

Frank Hollingsworth passes on the info that Port Hope will be here Saturday at 6.30 for the third round O.M.H.A. play with our budding Smoke Rings. It was gratifying to see the large band of customers hanging over the arena boards Friday for the twin-bill feature with Collingwood. Let's give our bantam skaters the same support.

Next Tuesday brings up the blue-ribbon event of the town league season, the semi-finals. The blood and thunder scrappers have been giving out with some sharp exchanges in the swing down to the wire. You can bet there'll be plenty more dish and dash before a winner emerges.

Who'll you have, Mount Albert, Vandonr, Newmarket Regents or Kettleby? On previous occasions this bureau has been known to miff these selection assignments. But on this occasion we feel so confident, we'll be right that on or about March 23 we'll be dispensing in the following vein. "As any hockey expert could have seen all along, Murray Edgar's Mount Albert Mounties were the best team in the Newmarket and District hockey league during the 1952-53 season and they made it official this week by defeating Vandonr in the fourth game of the town league finals, (score on request).

The Mounties came through the bitter five game series with the Town Regents a tired, tattered but unbowed lot and had just enough left to squeeze by the Alcorn-Lavender-Brown Vandonrs for the flag. Fittingly, Horace Berwick, the Mounties' most persistent morale builder, scored the title clinching goal after John Learoyd and Skip Taylor had battered down the Vandonr fences with early goals.

The Alcorn-coached Dorfers, in their semi-final conquest of Kettleby, were pressed to the limit by the King kids, Harry Loschuk, Stan Terry and Ron Hodgson, who put up a lively and exciting fight. Of course there's always the possibility that our research work amongst the dressing room guessers, coupled with some intent staring into our "never fail" crystal ball, has gone haywire.

Spits Tie With U. of T. Blues

Newmarket Spitfires, tuning up for their impending three game clash with Collingwood Shipbuilders to complete league action, battled to a 6-6 tie with University of Toronto Intermediate Blues in an exhibition clambake at the arena Thursday.

Spits roared away to a 3 - 0 first period edge. The Blues gained a tie by coming back to outscore the local hopefuls by a 6 - 3 margin over the rest of the route.

Spits had most of their scoring power tied up in the Don Gibson, Don Smith, Bill Johnston line. Don Smith, Spits' leading scorer, socked home three goals and helped on three others. Bill Johnston netted a goal and dug in for two assists. Defense-man Jack Andrews counted the Spits' other marker.

Norm Dysart and Ross Holden were the visitors' top goal-getters with two each while Don Weir and Ross Woods hit the cords behind Ken Tupling for the Blues' other goals.

Town League Semis Open On Tuesday

The Newmarket and District hockeyists will crack open their semi-final oyster next Tuesday.

Mount Albert and Newmarket Regents are matched in bracket one of the semi-finals, while Kettleby and Vandonr are scheduled to cross sticks in series two. Mount Albert and the Regents provide the kick-off semi-final game attraction at 8 o'clock on Tuesday while Kettleby and Vandonr furnish the nightcap game action.

Both series are booked as a best three out of five set. The blood and thunder town leaguers have been kicking in with some rugged games and both semi-final rounds could go the limit.

Schomberg Lions In O.M.H.A. Third Round

Doug Marchant's Schomberg Lions are still going strong in the O.M.H.A. bantam D playdowns. And more to the point, they're still winning. Thursday the Lions moved into Brooklin for third round action and won a close 5 - 4 decision on Brooklin ice.

The Lions therefore will have a goal lead to protect in the return engagement carded for the Nobleton arena this week. Larry Hill was Schomberg's only double marksman at Brooklin while Gary Bonham, Ron Hill and Gord Samson received acclaim for one shot.

Schomberg made short work of Washington in round two. After an 8 - 0 win in the opening game the Lions poured 14 - 0 embarrassment on Washington in a return game at Nobleton last Wednesday. In the 14 - 0 triumph, Bernie Hill bagged four, Larry Hill three, Gary Bonham, Don Fry and Gordio Samson two each to sparkplug the victory conscious Lions.

Hi-Sports

Frank Gregoire's Aurora seniors and Richmond Hill juniors will represent the North York secondary schools basketball league in the COSSA playdowns. Aurora drew Midland as first found opposition.

The opening game in the Aurora-Midland points - to - count series was played in Aurora Friday. Don Busby fired 13 points, Bill Jans 8 and Graham Routledge 7 to lead the Aurora charge to a 44-42 win in the see-saw contest. That means Aurora will carry a two-point advantage into the return game carded for Midland this week.

Fred Speer's N.H.S. cage crews closed up their North York league activity on a sad note by dropping a triple-header to Richmond Hill. N.H.S. seniors were nosed out 37-36; juniors lost 50-25 while the mid-gets were tripped 21-11.

Alastair Sinclair and Neil Tate were top scorers for the seniors. Bob Dick, Art Gibney and Paul Widdifield cropped the main supply of N.H.S. points in the junior exchange. Bill Mair hooped six, Grant Morton three and "Satch" Page two for the Purple and Gold midgets.

Switching to the ice lanes, Pickering College seniors whipped Pickering College "Old Boys" 9-3 at the arena Monday in their twentieth annual meeting. Don MacMillan, Bob King and Don Sears carried the "schoolboys" torch with two goals each while Peter Green, Tony Drew and Dave Stewart aided in the hexing with a goal each.

John Addison netted two and Paul Grose fired a single counter for the "Old Boys".

COLLINGWOOD HERE TONIGHT

FLOOD FUND GAME MON.

There's action aplenty ahead in the Newmarket and Aurora arenas over the next few days for the Newmarket, Aurora and district shinny filberts.

Local fun begins tonight (Thursday) with Collingwood Shipbuilders on hand for a bout with the Spitfires. Tomorrow night, along with the regular Optimist N.H.L. games, will be a North York midget hockey league playoff contest, featuring Aurora Legion vs Newmarket Optimists.

Monday night the arena should be the mecca of all hockey fans when the flood fund benefit game comes up between Mahers and Avros. Don't miss it; you'll be helping a worthy cause and you'll see Herb Cain, Bill Thoms and Hughie Mair in action. Tuesday night the opening games in the Newmarket & District hockey league semi-finals will hold the stage.

A major junior C attraction is carded for the Aurora arena Friday night at 8.30 p.m. with Cobourg Comets, eastern Ontario champions, booked in to clash with Aurora Bears in an exhibition contest.

BANTAM PLAYOFF SAT.

Final arrangements for the Newmarket Smoke Rings-Port Hope O.M.H.A. bantam playoff round were completed by Coach Frank Hollingsworth Wednesday afternoon. Port Hope will visit here Saturday at 6.30 p.m. for the first game of the "home-and-home, goal-to-goal" series. The return game will be played in Port Hope Feb. 26.

Optimists Win

A four goal third period spurt, tidy shot stopping by Bob Pegg and inspired defensive chores by Laurie VanZant, Charlie McGuire and Grant Morton, earned Newmarket Optimists a 6-3 win over Richmond Hill Rose Kings in the opening game of the North York midget hockey league round robin playoff series.

The game was played in Richmond Hill Tuesday. Bill Forhan was the only double marksman of the night. Earl Lothian, Norm Smart, Don Thoms and Grant Morton climbed on the scoring wagon for the Optimists' other goals. Jim Pollard, Pete Zinkan and Don Willis scored in the Hill cause.
